Mr. Schlesinger declined to estimate the amount of money involved but was quoted as denying it would reach a billion dollars. Although intimating that twenty million might be too small an estimate.

It was understood Attorney General Palmer had ordered the United States Shipping Board to hold up claims aggregating thirty-seven million dollars to await the outcome of the inquiry.

Cost plus contract, by which builders were permitted to claim ten per cent over what they said was actual cost of production of vessels during the war was said to have been the medium of the alleged fraud.

HELL HELD AS BIG HOSPITAL FOR INCURABLES

Evangelist Crabill in Fiery Sermon Ministers Neglect Teachings of Christ When They Neglect Hell

"Hell and How to Escape It," was Evangelist Crabill's subject for last evening and the subject was well handled. He said that if we had more hell preached in the pulpits, we would have less of it in the pews and the community. There's an opposite to everything. He said in part:

"If there is good, there is bad; if there is sweet, there is sour; if there is a heaven, there is a hell, and the Bible teaches both and Jesus himself had more to say about hell than any of his disciples. Yes, I am aware of the fact that people don't like to hear about it and seven-tenths of the preachers are not preaching it and have new ideas and thoughts concerning it, but that does not change God's word for it is written, "Heaven and earth will pass away, but my word shall never pass away." Hell is a hospital for the incurables. I was going through an insane hospital one day and they took me to a ward and said this is where we keep the incurables and the reason they are such is because they refuse to take anything that will help them. Some one says, "I don't believe that God will shove anyone into hell." No sir, and neither do I, but sir, God has made a way to escape it and if you refuse to take God's way of escape you will shovel yourself off into hell.

Some say all the hell a man gets, he gets here on earth, but that doesn't hold water. He then used an illustration of a murder where innocent parties were killed and the guilty one was not punished in this world because he killed himself.

Union leaders took no steps during the morning to remove the pickets and there were reports that wholesale arrests would be made before nightfall.

What's Your Hurry, John? Here Is Your Hat

Goodbye, John Barleycorn, we are glad to see you go. You have been with us far too long. You have outstayed your welcome. You have been the greatest curse of the ages during your visit. You have beckoned want, you have mildewed ambition and given the boots to hope. You have punctured the pay envelope of many men. You have thinned the soup and drafted new faces into the breadline.

You have palsied the hand and and heart of mother; eaten at childhood's self-respect; and scattered and quenched the embers from the heart of home. You have made a beaten path to the poorhouse and the potter's field. Your achievements are on the criminal court records; your history is embodied in the memory of neglect. Your monuments are blasted homes and the memories of what might have been, which cannot be erased from the minds of those who have passed through the tragedy.

You are the companion of the white plague, the friend of death and the chief curse to the injured. You have leadened the feet of returning health and poisoned the surgeon's knife. You have been fever 's fondest hope. You are the rag-weed of our civilization. You have thrived on neglect and filth. You are the foe of energy; the bright light along the hobo's path.

Yes, John, here is your hat. For in a word you have been the greatest curse of all ages. I would say the chief ally of Satan, if I did not have too much respect for the devil. You have borne the same relation to the penitentiary that the Sunday school has to the church.

Depart, never to return. For your departure will add to faith increase hope and multiply love. There will be the geniality of spring and the generosity of autumn and the warmth of summer where heretofore only hostility, selfishness and degredation have been.

CLEAN UP WET STATE SPOTS IS DRY HOPE

Schearer, New Federal Chief for District, Will Hit Illegal Sale of Booze in Cleveland and Toledo

Washington, Jan. 16.—"Prohibition will prohibit in Ohio. The law will be rigidly enforced and without fear or favor. There will be no privileged communities. Cleveland, Cincinnati and Toledo will be as 'boozeless as Painesville, when new organization gets down to business."

This was the promise of Joseph A. Schearer, of Columbus, emphatically expressed, following his appointment yesterday as state prohibition director.

HE'LL MAKE STATE DRY

Schearer was appointed by National Prohibition Commissioner John F. Kramer, of Mansfield, on the indorsement of Senator Pomerene. His job, paying $4,600 a year, will be to make dry Ohio absolutely arid so far as intoxicating liquors are concerned. Heads of him will be the drastic provisions of the Volstead enforcement act and all the machinery of the United States internal revenue bureau and the department of justice.

Kramer will leave for Ohio next Tuesday to help Shearer construct his organization and get it started. The state will be divided into subdivisions in charge of inspectors. A corps of deputies, each experienced to give will operate in each district, gathering evidence. County and municipal officers will be asked to co-operate.

START DRIVE IN CLEVELAND

Special attention will be paid to Cleveland, from which complaints have come that bootlegged and blind tigers are still doing a thriving business.

Shearer is an attorney and now secretary of the state public works department. He is a native of Ashland county, where he served two terms as county clerk. He was state automobile registrar for two years. His appointment is a political setback for Governor Cox, who had indorsed Adjutant General Roy T. Layton.

OPEN INITIAL GATHERING OF PEACE LEAGUE

"Irish Republic" Send Protest As London Is Picked for Next Meeting—Would Consult U. S.

Paris, Jan. 16—Representatives of France, Great Britain, Italy, Greece Belgium, Spain, Japan, Portugal and Brazil, members of the council of the league of nations, met in the "clock room" of the French foreign office at 10 o'clock this morning for the first meeting in the history of the league.

The council organized at 10:30 o'clock by electing Leon Bourgois, chairman, and confirming the choice of Sir Eric Drummond of Great Britain as general secretary.

The first official act of the council was the appointment of a commission to trace upon the spot the frontiers of the territory of the Sarre Basin.

The council of the league of nations received the first formal protest to be presented to it almost before it came into being with today's initial session.

Irish Send Protest

The protest was from "The envoys of the elected government of the Irish republic" against the English Simulacre of an 'amicable peace.' No mention of the Irish protest was made during the meeting of the council. Copies were handed to the newspaper correspondents after they left the foreign office.

The protest insisted that the league was illusory and incomplete, lacking authority and sanction and declared that the United States stood out "in indignation in repudiation of it."

All the members of the council called for by the covenant of the league with the exception of the representatives of the United States were present when the meeting was called to order.

Premier Venizelos, without rising, opened the proceedings by nominating M. Bourgeois for chairman. Lord Curson seconded the nomination and then Bourgeois was unanimously elected.

After speeches by M. Bourgois and Curson, Signor Ferraris on behalf of Italy, said his nation was glad to respond to the invitation of the president of the great American people. Bourgeis announced that the only item on the order of the day was the appointment of three members of the commission to fix boundaries of the Sarre, together with one member appointed by the French government and one by Germany.

After the apointment of the commissions, Bourgois proposed London as the place for the next meeting of the council and this was approved.

Lord Curzon suggested leaving the date and the order of business open to be decided by the chairman and the secretary, since he said, "It will be necessary to consult the United States, on a great many questions likely to arise."

LORAIN WOMAN LOSES POCKETBOOK AND $25

Hard luck seems to pursue a Lorain woman who has worked hard to keep her daughter in school so that she might graduate from the public schools there this winter.

Yesterday she came to this city with the girl in order to do some trading, but on the way over on the green line she lost her pocket book containing $25, all the money she had been able to save in order to buy the daughter some articles of wearing apparel so that she might look well on graduating day. If this purse has been found by an honest person, they can notify the Lorain police department, as the money will be put to good use.

BRITAIN MAY WAGE WAR ON THE RED

Outbreaks in India Imminent as Militant Chiefs Rush to Paris Peace Conference —British Representative Flees

London, Jan. 16—News has reached London that the British representative at Irkutsk has been ordered to leave the zone of hostilities owing to the threatening situation brought about by the advance of the soviet forces. He has gone to Harbin.

London, Jan. 16—Great Britain faces another war.

Bolshevik military successes in the middle east have become so formidable that an attack on Poland and the Baltic states impends, it is declared in official circles.

India, too, is threatened by the red peril. British governmental authorities fear a campaign against the colony, now that red forces have penetrated so far east into Siberia.

Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of war; Walter Hume Long, first lord of the admiralty; Baron Beatty, comander of the grand fleet, and Field Marshal Sir Henry W. Wilson, chief of the imperial staff, left London last night having been hastily summoned to Paris for a consultation with Premier Lloyd George and other British officials there on paramount military and naval problems.

War Looms

A semi-official statement published yesterday pointing to the threatening attitude of the Bolsheviki in the middle east is linked in the public mind with the growing fear that another war impends.

By their victories, the Bolsheviki have secured control of immense quantities of food, raw materials, coal and rolling stock.

RAIL DEFICIT IS NOT ACTUAL SAYS SPEAKER

The Problem of Transportation Discussed by Editor on Subject of "Plumb Plan" Before Kiwanis Club

At the Kiwanis club regular noonday luncheon Thursday, J. F. Burke was the speaker and spoke on the so-called "Plumb Bill" for the solution of the railroad situation.

Mr. Burke first emphasized the magnitude of the problem itself and stated there were some 3,000 railroads in the country divided roughly into one hundred systems, fifty of which were of considerable importance. There were 240,000 miles of railroads constructed in the United States, 627,000 stockholders and it was estimated that a million people were interested in the bond. He said the valuation was placed variously from seventeen to eighteen billion of dollars.

Railroads Big Factor

He then emphasized the relation that the railroads bore to all lines of activity. He said that the roads were the means of bringing the raw material to the manufacturer and the finished product to the consumer and that there was nothing that we ate or wore which had not paid some form of tribute to the railroads.

Plumb's Ownership Idea

After this, Mr Burke went specifically to the Plumb plan and began by saying that Mr. Glen E. Plumb, attorney for the Railroad Brotherhood had proposed as his solution of the problem that the government should buy all the railroads in the country and retire all private interests in them. He said that immediately this met objections from those who were inclined against government ownership and we all probably felt that we should turn the roads back absolutely into

He is being held as a witness.

According to the officers, Tabor's statement declared his mother, now eighty years old, chloroformed Mrs. Virgo, and that he had removed the body to the cellar where it was placed in the woman's "hope chest" and covered with lumber. # SHERIFF TO ARREST OWNERS INSTEAD OF DOGS HEREAFTER

Failure to Get Dog Licence Makes Owner Subject to a $25 Fine

Commentins today on the reluctance with which Lorain county owners are paying up the dog tax Sheriff Backus states that he is about to inaugurate an entirely new policy.

Hereafter, after waiting a reasonable time for them to pay the tax the sheriff will proceed to arrest the owners instead of the dogs. The law has been amended and a penalty of $25 provided for in case owners do not take out the license and the sheriff states that he intends to enforce the statute.

He does not propose to make the sheriff's office a collecting agency hereafter, but will simply go and arrest the owner, and let the magistrate do the rest.

Thus far but 2,200 licenses have been taken out in the county and the sheriff states that there are at least eight dogs on which he has not been paid.

WHY IS ILL HEALTH?

MANY CAUSES FOR A RUN DOWN CONDITION

ONE OF THE MOST COMMON IS ANEMIA (GENERAL BLOOD LESSNESS)

"Ill health" is a relative term.

Some individuals are terribly and seriously ill, and need the services of the best doctor obtainable.

Others are not so seriously affected. If your ill health is caused by weak watery blood (an exceedingly common condition) you can recognize it by the following signs or symptoms:

1—Poor color or red paleness.
2—"Tired-outness" or general weakness.
3—Frequent headaches.
4—Loss of appetite.
5—Lack of spirits and ambition.
6—Loss of bodily strength.

The best remedy is one that will overcome the cause—Anaemia or Blood-lessness. "Gude's" Pepto-Mangan is the one peculiarly valuable medicine for this purpose. It supplies the weak watery blood with the very elements it needs to put new life into the vital fluid (the blood) which carries the good one gets from one's food to all parts of the run-down body. It repairs, recreates, revives and rebuilds the exhausted blood, the fountain and fountain-head of health and life. Try Pepto-Manzan if you are "run-down." It can not harm you—it will certainly help you unless you have some deep-seated chronic disease requiring the physician's care. Be sure the name "Gude's" is on the package. Without "Gude's" it is not Pepto-Manzan. For sale at all druggists. Advertisement.

BANISHED INDIGESTION AND NERVOUSNESS—"HEADACHES A THING OF THE PAST"

Had pains in side and stomach. Was on the verge of nervous prostration and suffered constantly from headaches.

After taking two bottles of Nerv-Worth I feel altogether different. Get up in the morning rested and feel fine. Have gained in weight. Can eat anything I want. No longer bothered with aches. My headache is a thing of the past. I can recommend Nerv-Worth most highly for the cure.

MONEY PLENTY BUT FURNITURE HARD TO BUY

Harry H. Smith Says Goods For 1921 Shipment Have to Be Purchased at This Time — Prices Advance

Harry H. Smith of the Harry H. Smith Co., has just returned from the furniture market at Grand Rapids after spending ten days purchasing goods.

He reports that merchandise of all kinds is hard to get and prices are soaring. Orders are being placed mostly for fall shipment, and for spring of 1921 The shortage is caused to the lack of production caused by the short hours of work, scarcity of labor and raw materials have advanced to unheard of prices causing the advance on the finished product. Mr. Smith placed many orders for 1921 shipment something he never had to do before, and he advises early buying of house furnishings before the spring arrives as there will surely be a shortage throughout the country.

The merchants all report a large Christmas business with plenty of money, but for the first time they cannot get shipments when they have the money to pay for it.

Roughing It.

Robert and his father were stranded one night out in a country district. Their car had broken down and they were offered to stay all night in a humble little home. Everything was strange to Robert, who was strictly a city child. When he returned home I heard him tell his little neighbor friend: "Say, it was great! We slept on a feather bed and washed in their dishpan on the back porch."

SPANISH PRINCESS BECOMES ITALIAN

Princess Beatrice de Bourbon-Orleans.

Princess Beatrice de Bourbon-Orleans, whose husband, Prince Alfonso, recently declared his intention of renouncing his title of infante of Spain and his privileges of royalty in order to become an Italian citizen, is also going to change her nationality. The prince's decision was taken as a result of an alleged plot to confiscate his Spanish estates.

Says that every time you cut or pick at a corn you invite lockjaw

Says that every time you cut or pick at a corn you invite lockjaw

You reckless men and women who are bestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freezone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out with the fingers without one particle of pain.

This freezone is a sticky substance which, dries the moment it is applied and just loosens the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. He says a quarter of an ounce will cost very little at any of the drug stores, but this is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

You are positively warned that cutting or picking at a corn is a suicidal habit.

THE COLLEGES AND THE PEACE TREATY

The colleges throughout the country voted on the estion of the Peace Treaty. In some cases the faculty ed separately from the undergraduates. In most of colleges the majority was for the treaty with reservans.

The facts concerning this vote were largely heralded. Oberlin more than seven hundred of the undergrades voted for the treaty as it is without any change. ween two and three hundred voted for some changes. rty-eight members of the faculty in Oberlin voted for Peace Treaty without change. Thirty-three of them ed for the treaty with reservations.

Those of us who recall our student days can hardly these accounts of the vote of the undergraduates nout smiling. If there is anything that the average lent in college knows absolutely nothing about, and ng the period of his college life seems to care less ut, it is the current events—the things that are trang today. As one of the students who participated he vote on the Peace Treaty told us, in a group of four ple who had voted, two of them thought they were ng on whether they favored peace or war.

It has been well known that there has been a tendency ng the faculty of our educational institutions to favor treaty without the doting of an "i" or the crossing of ". This sentiment among the colleges has been unptedly due, very largely, to a loyalty to President Wilnd his plans. This loyalty, undoubtedly, started in ith in the President's intellectual powers and purity urpose. It grew to such an extent that it became a that was akin to the love of which we speak as beblind—a blindness which is due to a worship of the which people believe exists in the person who is the t of their affections but really exists in their minds. es very close contact for a long period of time, often ange that kind of faith.

We are surprised at such a large vote in the city of lin in favor of reservations in spite of President on still maintaining his attitude.

THE PASSING OF THE OWNERSHIP OF A GREAT NEWSPAPER

Yesterday the news came to us that the New York ld, the evening edition of which is the Evening Tele- together with their Paris edition had been sold to A. Munsey. Thus, the old properties, belonging erly to James Gordon Bennett, the Elder, and then to s Gordon Bennett, Junior, go into other hands.

The New York Herald is one of the great newspapers e country. It was the only paper that used to be shed in New York City, the advertising of which to be folded over each day the news part of the pathe news being on the inside, and you had to dig gh or throw out the advertising to reach the news. when you did, the news was there.

The Bennetts lived most of their time away from New City. They lived in Paris or elsewhere. They were e in personality, both father and son.

The papers unquestionably can be improved, it would possible to hurt them from an editorial standpoint. editorials, particularly the Telegram, always seemed worthless-and insipid; they had no personality; probthey feared to express themselves in any direction se of the Bennetts. But the news was complete and sting.

The purchase of the paper now from the estate recalls norous reply that Mr. Bennett at one time sent to New York men who desired to buy the paper when d not want to sell. He was in Paris. They cabled as follows: "What will you take for the New York ld?" He replied, "Regular price—daily three cents, ay lve cents. James Gordon Bennett." Mr. Munas probably paid considerable over this sum.

We have had some of the wonderlust in our lives. We often wondered why it was that we had no desire to Trinidad since we had heard consnderable of that ry. We have just discovered the reason. We read the natives encourage the development of spiders that are as large as dinner plates.

The natives of the Philippine Islands have certainly good grounds for a concerted "kick" against Uncle n this high cost of living time. Uncle Sam has issued ee that the natives must wear pants. The natives are bly insisting that this is done in the interest of some clothing houses in the Philippine Islands.

We notice that the naturalists tell us that it takes six months to tan an elephant's hide. But then, the should remember when they are thinking of this matat the elephant is not wearing the hide while it is tanned.

The news dispatches carry the statement that one of is perfecting a device whereby he is going soon. When the Bible of the future is will be the principle prophet.

Cleaning Silverware For Pay

BY BELLE CASE HARRINGTON

Almost everybody dislikes cleaning silver. That is the reason they will hire someone to do it for them. Ask a half-dozen women whom you know to let you clean their silver once a month.

You will need a quantity of soft cloths like old cottonflannel, or the tops of old stockings. Soft towels will be needed for drying, and a soft brush for getting into the creases. Some skins are easily irritated by certain silver-cleaning preparations, and you may need a pair of rubber gloves. Get a square of table oilcloth to spread on the floor when you do the work in the homes of your patrons.

There are several good ways of brightening silverware. Here are two simple formulas.

1st—Take common whiting, a fine white powder which you can buy at the drug store. Add one teaspoon of household ammonia to a teacupful of water, moisten a soft cloth with this lip into the whiting and rub until the tarnish is removed. Then wash in warm water and dry on soft towels.

2nd—Take a good-sized aluminum kettle—the newer the better. Fill half full of soft water to which has been added 1 tablespoon of soda and two of salt for every quart of water. Put in the silver to be cleaned and bring the water to a boil for five or ten minutes. No rubbing is required, merely take out, rinse, and dry. The success of this method depends upon the chemical action of the salt and soda upon the aluminum. The water may be used many times. If the aluminum kettle is rather old, add a new pie pan or an aluminum lid to the water.

Sometimes it is hard to start the tarnish from a piece which has stood for a long time. In such a case, there is no better way than the old-fashioned plan of putting the article in the first water poured off from common dry soup beans which are being cooked for the table.

Be careful not to mislay any articles entrusted to you. If you take them away from the house, make a list of them. Ask your employer to verify it before you go. Arrange the flat silver in the cases, and wrap the large pieces in tissue paper before you return them. Be prompt and reliable and you will have all the work you can do.

Every Day Science for Boy Mechanics

Making Artificial Ice

BY GRANT M. HYDE

"How does ammonia make ice, Daddy?"

"By evaporating. It freezes water near it because it has a lot of 'latent heat'."

"What is latent heat?"

"Did you ever notice that, when some gasoline evaporates on your hand, it feels very cold? That is evidence of the latent heat of evaporation. Did you ever notice that ice will not freeze cream in the ice-cream freezer until you add salt to melt the ice? That is also latent heat.

"It is one of the laws of nature that, whereas it takes so many heat units to raise the temperature of a pan of water from zero to the boiling point, some more units are needed to turn it into steam—which still has the same temperature of 212 degrees. The last units that make the steam are latent heat, and the same units come out again when the steam condenses into water in a steam radiator. When water freezes, it gives off just the same latent, or extra, heat which it takes to melt ice. Almost all substances show this law when passing from solid to liquid or to gaseous state—and back again—but some substances take on and give off more latent heat than others.

"Ammonia is used for ice-making because it handles a lot of latent heat. Although it evaporates at ordinary temperatures, heat is necessary to enable it to evaporate, and the ammonia takes this heat from anything nearby.

"In a refrigeration plant, the ammonia is first compressed by a pump into liquid form, then allowed to evaporate in a coil of pipes hung in a tank of salt-brine, which does not easily freeze. The brine, thus cooled to very low temperature, is run through pipes in the refrigerating rooms or other places that are to be cooled. In most ice-making plants, it runs through pipes encircling a tank of water and freezes the water.

"Although ammonia is most commonly used, other substances are sometimes employed, and other methods of using ammonia are in practice."

PHOSPHATED MANURE GROWS LARGE CROP

That stall manure and acid phosphate constitutes one of the most effective fertilizer combinations known is brought out in a bulletin on "The Maintenance of Soil Fertility," recently issued by the Ohio experiment station at Wooster. The experiment station in testing manure and fertilizers has secured an average yield of corn of 65 bushels per acre for 21 years or an increase of 35 bushels over the yield where no manure nor fertilizers has been used.

The corn crop was grown in a rotation of corn, wheat and clover. The manure applied in this case had been re-enforced in the stables at the rate of 40 pounds of acid phosphate per ton of manure. Eight tons was aplied to the clover sod in the winter before it was plowed down for corn.

The experiments show that manure loses much of its fertilizing properties when allowed to be leached by rains and also that manure needs reenforcement with phosphorus to be most effective.

From this application of manure and acid phosphate there has also been an average increase of 15 bushels of wheat and 2,500 pounds of clover hay over the untreated plots in the rotation, the wheat and clover following the corn without any further manurins or fertilizing.

Rail Deficit Is Not Actual Says Speaker

private control. But the speaker emphasized that there was not any such animal as private control, that the railroads had had a very disastrous history, beginning in a blaze of glory they had been mulcted, reorganized, exploited many of them absolutely and many more almost, ruined. And he said that the condition that they were in at the beginning of the war was most lamentable, that their rolling stock was played out, their equipment dilapidated and credit all but gone. He said that the various lines did not articulate one with the other and the systems almost refused to function, that the government was compelled to take hold of them to assure anything like an adequate service.

Under Federal Regulation

He emphasized that even before this there was not any such thing as private control of the railroads because, through the Interstate Commerce Commission, the legislatures of the various states and Public Utilities Commissions, rates, both of passengers and freight, together with numbers of men on the crews, conditions of employment, hours of service, safety devices and so forth were all regulated for the railroads by the government. Hence, it was not a question of whether we were going to have absolute private ownership or Government ownership, but whether we were going to have absolute private ownership or government ownership, but whether we were going to have regulation of government. Hence it was not a question of whether we were going to have absolute private ownership or Governmeal ownership, but whether we were going to have regulation of government and private ownership, or government ownership on the other hand.

Explains the "Deficit"

Mr. Burke referred to the deficit which had alarmed the country and stated that, of course, it did not reflect very well on the management of the railroads. "At the same time," he said, "The so-called deficit" in reality is not a deficit at all because a deficit, as is usually spoken of, is that margin wherein the gross income fails to meet the operating expenses and fixed charges, where as this deficit is nothing of that kind."

Government Faced Real Problem

He said it should be remembered that when the government took control of the roads they had agreed to pay the roads a sum each month equal to the average amount that the roads received for each of those same months of the three years previous to the time that the government took charge. In view of the fact that those were three fairly profitable years, it means a good deal for the government to do this and the difference between the net earnings and the amount of the guarantee of the government was called the deficit. At the time the government took control prices of steel of all kinds was on the up-grade so were wages; so that, as a matter of fact, the increase in the expense of equipment was from fifty to seventy per cent and of wages for the period, fifty per cent.

Labor Cost Dated Ahead

He said that it should be remembered that, while the rates on freight and passenger service were increased the labor cost was dated six months ahead of the increase on freight and passenger service. More than this, the three months following the first of January 1919, showed a falling off in the freight service of the roads one-third, and no corresponding reduction in the expense.

Must Assure Credit

Mr. Burke said that the railroads could not be turned back to the owners without the government either buying them or furnishing capital for their credit or allowing them to raise rates, so that they would be assured of credit. He emphasized the difficulties in rate service by reason of the fact that some roads efficiently run did not need very high rates with others, inefficiently run would be ruined unless there were higher rates. He said that the Cummins Bill tried to obviate this by taking the money from the efficiently run roads and loaning it or putting it into other channels and limiting the amount that any road could make. Plumb proposed simply to buy them outright.

Mr. Plumb's Plan to Consider Rail roads as Government Property

He spoke, secondly concerning the method of determining the value of the road according to Mr. Plumb who proposed to consider the road as a government property with certain private rights to wring out the water and eliminate all improvements which had been made by profits, because, according to Plumb's view, excess profits over dividends used in the expansion or development of the road were made by excessive rates to the people.

Plan Of Control

Mr. Burke spoke of the plan of control under the Plumb Plan which was for fifteen men to form a Board of Control, five of these men to be appointed by the President of the United States, five of them to be elected by the operating officials and five by the so-called classified employees. The whole system should be unified under the control of these fifteen men; wages would be fixed; under the bill by a committee of nine, selected from these fifteen men. This would give the majority of the employees the power to fix their own salaries. Mr. Burke said that Mr. Plumb believed that the dangers and difficulties of this would be obviated by the methods provided for in the bill concerning profits. All surplus over fixed charges, operating expenses and the sinking fund was to be divided into two equal parts; one part given to the government and the other part to the employees.

By reason of the fact that the operating officials would have, of the amount, double the percentage that the classified employees had, it would be to their interest to make this amount as large as possible and hence they would vote to keep wages down in order that their share of the profits in the excess should be greater.

Power to Fix Rates

Mr. Burke brought out the fact, then, that when the amount of this excess to the government was more than five per cent of the gross operating expenses, that the amount should be absorbed by the reduction in the rates and the Interstate Commerce Commission still has the power, under the bill, to fix the rates for passenger service and freight.

Mr. Burke drew some parallels between the Plumb bill and the Cummins bill and referred to the 57 varieties of plans that were submitted to Congres for the solution of the railroad problem.

For Social Success.

Whenever you see a man who is successful in society, try to discover what makes him pleasing and, if possible, adopt his system.—Beaconsfield.

THRIFT AND STINGINESS

Sir Editor:

To understand the difference between thrift and stinginess we must analyze logically our American standards of living.

Does thrift mean that we must stint ourselves and families of the real necessities of life in order to deposit money, money and more money at the end of each week in the bank—or to act as a common sense people and enjoy life that is worth while living within a moderate estimate of what we can afford without being wasteful? Ordinary "horse sense" is all this question requires and you, my friend, know it.

To be stingy, a person is not only niggardly to one's self but to all fellow beings as well. This type of person is the kind of man who would brand his brother beggar in his own domain, to glut a mad, inordinate lust for gain. Be thrifty, brother, but not stingy.

J. J. O'CONNELL,
American Liberty Hotel, Lorain

THRIFT

Let this be your watchword
As on through life you go:
I'm done with being a tight-fist,
More thrift I now will sow.
'Tis just common sense philosophy
And asserts what should be true.
Go now, you've got my moral—
Goodbye, friend, adieu!

LOCAL CHURCH OF CHRIST PLAN NEW BUILDING

Present Edifice Is Inadequate to Accommodate Increasing Congregation — Building Funds Started

The annual meeting of the Church of Christ was held on Wednesday evening with a large number present. The meeting was opened with a short devotional service. The reports of the various organizations were very interesting and showed the marked results of the systematic organization throughout the church.

The need of a new church building was made apparent by the inadequate space in the church school, which has outgrown its present quarters. A new up-to-date building is under consideration, and in line of this need the ladies' Aid have $1000 on interest toward it, while the Unite Young People's class have started a fund, and the Pollyanna club have $100 in their Building fund.

The treasurer's report was especially interesting. The total receipts for the year were $856.10, nearly $600 of it being used in the mission field.

"Surely God has prospered the church the past year and its efforts to teach his word and bring others into his light have been blessed. Sixty-six have come into "the way of eternal life," thirty-two coming from the bible school.

Following the business session the Pollyanna Club took charge of the program which was unique and highly entertaining. The Pollyanna club believe in playing the "glad game" and they made everyone "glad" that they had come out to enjoy the fellowship in God's house, and to learn of the progress and growth of the work of the Master.

The West Side Division of the Ladies' Aid served hot coffee and iced cakes and wafers in the basement parlors at the close of the evening.

Daughters of Scotland Hold Open Installation

The Daughters of Scotland held open installation meeting last evening in the Maccabee hall. The present President Anna Gerrie of Cleveland was present and installed the officers in a most impressive manner.

Past President Mary Mahon was presented with a beautiful electric table lamp.

After the installation ceremonies a social hour was enjoyed, when refreshments were served and dancing was indulged in.

Several of the members from Lorain were present.

SELF DOINGS AT SETTLEMENT HOUSE

A bob-sled load of young people from Western Heights started to Oberlin Thursday night but because of the bad roads were obliged to turn back. The change in the plan did not spoil the enjoyment of the evening, however, as they all went to the Settlement House, where a hot lunch was served and a general good time enjoyed. Miss Gill Miss Ashbrook and Miss Adams chaperoned the affair.

Mrs. G. E. French has taken the place of Miss Fitch as teacher of the Monday sewing class.

Miss Minnie Albright of the Y. W. C. A. is now pianist for the orchestra.

Two new gymnasium classes have been started, one on Tuesday night for boys and one Friday evening for the girls.

Much interest is being shown in the story hour each week. Miss Gessner tells the stories today.

SPECIAL MEETING FOR LADY MACCABEES

MRS. RICHEY ENTERTAINS '95 CLUB

Mrs. Frank Richey entertained the '95 Club yesterday afternoon at her home on Park avenue.

Mrs. Cushing reviewed Chapter 10 of "The Roots of the War," "The Old Pilot and the New Captain of Germany."

SONS AND DAUGHTERS OF LIBERTY OBSERVE FIRST ANNIVERSARY

The Sons and Daughters of Liberty very successfully celebrated their first anniversary last evening in the G. A. R. hall. Though this lodge is only a year old, it is steadily growing, due to the interest and enthusiasm of the members.

The Forest City Council of Cleveland were the guests of the lodge and a beautiful ritual was exemplified by them, which was admirably done and unusually impressive as each guest wore a handsome uniform.

At six o'clock a banquet was served, covers being laid for fifty. The beautiful repast will long be remembered by all present. The table was replete with good things to eat and when the meal was finished every one was full of satisfaction and words of praise for the committee in charge.

The officers were installed by the State Deputy, Lillie Hamlin, assisted by Past State Councillor Ida Edwards Foss.

UNIQUE CLUB ENJOYS MEETING

The Unique Club met with Mrs. Louie Keller of West River road last Thursday afternoon.

A report, read by the secretary and treasurer, was approved.

Much pleasure was derived from the contest, "Age," which was provided for the guests.

Tatting and a social time were enjoyed during the afternoon.

The decorations were prettily carried out in blue and gold.

A tasty luncheon was served at 6:30 o'clock by the hostess.

ISOBEL ISN'T THE LEAST BIT AFRAID OF THE STEEP CLIFF AND OCEAN BELOW

Trick snapshot of Miss Isobel Elsom.

This photograph of Miss Isobel Elsom, a popular London footlight favorite, apparently shows her poised dangerously near a steep cliff overlooking a castle and the cold, forbidding sea. But hold those gasps. Isobel isn't anywhere near a cliff, a castle or the sad sea waves. The photo is an example of the effects that can be obtained by the Edwin Meane method of indoor photography by which you can be photographed anywhere you

THRIFT

Here is the message to Ohio club women on thrift for the week of January 17 to 24 by Mrs. W. H. Sharp, Columbus, president of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs:

During the period of the war the club women practiced thrift, had their war gardens, assisted in food conservation, sewed, knit and helped in many ways to produce as well as conserve both food and clothing as a matter of patriotism. We must realize that it is just as essential and as patriotic now to practice thrift as it was then. The great benefit to be derived from the coming campaign will be fully appreciated by the American people when they learn the result of the practice of thrift by each and every one of them has lowered the high cost of living which it will undoubtedly do. The universal practice of thrift is imperative until production can be increased and the ordinary law of supply can operate.

Therefore let us, as usual, do do our full duty by practicing, preaching and teaching thrift.

Ohio Federation 1919 Directory

The 1919 directory of the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs has been sent out. Each federated club president is furnished a directory and it is her duty to keep the directory within the reach of club members. Extra copies may be had from the corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. L. Whitacre, No. 949 Fifteenth avenue, Columbus, by payment of twenty-five cents. As this is the time when officers are being elected we wish to remind club officers of the request made in the directory that the names and addresses of new officers be sent to Mrs. Whitacre. One of the important messages carried by the directory is that by Mrs. Prentice D. Rood, Toledo, retiring president.

The president of each club is a member of the state president's council and as such she is the link between the board, the chairmen of departments and her club. It is the duty of the president to bring to the attention of her club all communications sent from the state federation. She should reply promptly to all communications from officers and chairmen, and especially, she should reply promptly to requests for information.

Whatever success has come to the Ohio Federation of Women's clubs has been the result of splendid co-operation, Mrs. Rood points out, and adds: "Let every individual member of every individual club realize that she is a definite and important part of the larger organization—then indeed, shall we verify the truth of our federation's motto: 'Influence is responsibility.'"

The directory shows that there are 564 federated clubs in the state organization and that 140 clubs belong to the general federation.

Ohio Women's Pay in 1920

Mrs. Paul Frank Crestline, chairman of the state federation social and industrial committee, would have club women use their influence in securing what she terms a living wage for Ohio women in 1920. She makes an earnest appeal for a fairer distribution of wages as between men and women. She pleads for the protection of women and minors from conditions detrimental to their health and morals, resulting, she says, from wages which are inadequate to maintain decent standards of living and for prohibition of night work for women. The employment of women on night shifts is deplored from a standpoint both of health and morals.

...oted Movie 'Vamp' Writes of Her Double Life; 'Nobody Loves Me,' She Says

...tten Especially for the International News Service, the London Daily Express and The Chronicle-Telegram.
By THEDA BARA.

...iss Theda Bara is the famous "vampire" Actress of the Screen)

London, Jan. 15.—Nobody love me. You may want to dispute this and base your contradiction upon the number of men that flutter ...d fe like moths round a candle, but you can take it from me, they ...ot love me. For one thing I am too clever, and although my wisdom ...magnet that fascinates and attracts men, it cannot reach the heart ...man as can the guileless smile of an innocent little girls

"But," you will say, "the Vampire smiles."

Oh yes, I can smile. My smile is one of my greatest assets. With ...bait I can catch much, but can I catch love? Never." It allures ...They rise to the bait and then, realizing what it is and what ...they retreat in double-quick time. My smile can cut a man to the ...k, it can rend his heart, but it cannot ensnare it. So you see why ...m so very sad.

Yet with all my wiles the "Vampire me" could not chain the man ...my heart. There were plenty of them who were my abject slaves, ...y to pave my way with the costliest jewels. They come to me for di...lion, but the first girl with an angel face and an ability to make a ...d apple pie and cook a breakfast wins their love, and the Vampire ...es an inglorious exit.

That is why I am so sad. Nobody wants to marry me, that is, not good. If I do marry I am unhappy ever after, or else I reform and ...ome a model wife.

My fame and fortune pursue me off the screen. When an ancient ...ian village was discovered some time ago one of my admirers sent ...some of his finds. They included finger bones, toe bones and an ...ian skull. Can you imagine such delicious relics being sent to ...body but a Vampire? And now I have an opportunity of philosphiz...over the skull as Hamlet did over "poor Yorick."

I must tell you this one. On my way to the studio one morning I ...t feeling rather queer and stepped into a drug store for a tonic. Just ...the clerk was pouring out the dose the soda clerk, a little flapper, ...ped up beside him and in a stage whisper said: "That's Theda Bara ...Vampire"—and bang went bottle, glass and the whole works on ...floor. Now if I had been—no, I won't mention names—I would ...bably have got an extra tonic free.

No, believe me, the Vampire gets much for which other women envy ...but she never gets the biggest treasure of all—a man's love.

BROTHERS DIVIDED' AT THE AMERICAN THEATRE TODAY

"Brothers Divided," Frank Keenan's newest production for Pathe ...d book for the American theatre ...day is one of those pictures that ...kes the world seem like a mighty ...e place to live in.

The story revolves about two ...thers—one crabbed and selfish ...d hard; the other tender and gen...ous and square. Twenty years in ...e confines of a prison had taught ...m to appreciate human nature, and ...en circumstances placed him in ...arge of his brother's mill, where ...e employees were overworked and ...derpaid, he told them of his past ...d asked for a chance to make ...od.

He got it—and the result brings ...is delightful, human interest story ...work and play and just plain hap...y living to a close that sends a ...ile chasing the tears away.

Frank Keenan not only plays the ...le of the two brothers, but also ...rected the picture, which was writ...n by Gertrude Andrews. Wallace ...acDonald, Ruth Langston, Gert...de Clair and others are prominent ...the splendid supporting cast.

COMB SAGE TEA INTO GRAY HAIR

Darkens Beautifully and Restores Its Natural Color and Lustre at Once.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use preparation improved by the addition of other ingredients a large bottle, at little cost, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of mess.

While gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

While there will be headliners, there will also be five other big classy acts as well as the two reel comedy and weekly. This will make a concert that should please all, at the popular prices that prevail.

'HAWTHORNE OF THE U. S. A.' AT THE STRAND THEATRE NEXT SUNDAY

Five thousand silver half dollars lay unguarded on a table in a motion picture show, recently, while sleek moustached villains and unscrupulous vampires roamed around the set. And at the end of that period only one of the pieces was missing. This one had rolled off and fallen through a crack in the stage.

The occasion of all this tempting wealth was the filming of the scene in "Hawthorne of the U. S. A." in which Wallace Reid breaks the bank at Monte Carlo.

The picture concerns the adventures of two American law clerks on an inexpensive junket in Europe when they wandered into a little kingdom in which revolution is brewing.

The picture is a Paramount-Artcraft and will be shown at the Strand theatre Sunday.

PROMINENT PLAYERS IN DOROTHY DALTON PICTURE 'L'APACHE'

Special attention was paid by Thomas H. Ince in selecting the cast for "L'Apache," which comes to the Colonial theatre today as a Paramount-Artcraft picture with Dorothy Dalton in two most important roles. Being a story of Paris life, partly in the underworld of the Apache, great stress was laid upon securing types that would be true to life. Miss Dalton has played several Parisian parts, and the character of the part she has just left for her new "Madame" is typical Parisian. In interpreting the role of Raymond Darclay, who was born in Belgium and was educated in Paris.

Robert Elliott, Miss Dalton's leading man, has had extensive experience and stage engagements recently in "The Unchastened Woman" and "Mid-Channel" with Elsie Ferguson. In the latter role of Jack Wall he transformed for her character of the French artist in "The Heart of Paris." Among the cast are Val Paul, Arthur Wellesley, George Fisher, and Frank Cooke. Joe Ogle is directing the picture.

Taking A Tip From Wallace Reid

HAVING bribed his straw kelly and his nice new cane away from the hat check boy, Wallie Reid had counted on getting by this Captain Kidd fo "soup and fish." But no such luck. This is a luxury tax that not even a screen star can escape. And the coy manner in which the waiter rolled his eyes—Wallie simply had to hand it to him. He had such "touching" ways.

Then again, maybe the garcon wasn't "asking for quarter" at all but, being a Reid fan like most of us, just wanted to get a ...o where Wallie's latest Paramount-Artcraft picture, "Hawthorne of the U. S. A." is showing.

Heartless Traffic Cop Puts Authority to Test With Sad Results to Official Pride

Charlie Chaplin in his latest picture, "A Day's Pleasure," will be the attraction at the Colonial theatre, commencing Sunday. This is Chaplin's fourth million dollar production from his own studios and made for distribution by the First National Exhibitors' Circuit.

Traffic Cop and Charlie—Enuf!

"I can sincerely say," said manager Phelps of the Colonial theatre, "that never in the history of this house has a funnier incident than Chaplin's traffic cop trouble been seen. At advance showings this comedy angle devised by Chaplin has never failed to shake the most nonlaughable person from the heartiest gale of laughter.

"The best points of Chaplin's many pictures serve as his guiding basis for the production of this picture. Although not sacrificing a laugh, he has confined this production to strictly legitimate comedy, and I can candidly say that it is the cleanest comedy that has ever been brought before the public.

'THE BRUTE BREAKER' AT DREAMLAND SUNDAY

Did you ever stop to think what a romantic life the Olden time knights of King Arthur's Round Table used to lead, hunting adventure, righting wrongs, have journeying about the world, and making themselves generally useful about the place?

That is just such a mission as fate laid upon Louis Gantaro played by Frank Mayo in "The Brute Breaker," Universal's newest production, which comes to the Dreamland theatre Sunday.

Mayo is seenas the son of a wealthy timberland owner, who on the death of his father inherits a vast wood land estate in the north. He's up to a clique of bullies who are terrorizing the camps. He sets out like a Sir Galahad and without permitting his identity to be known, lives out as a common lumberjack and soon gives the bullies, one after another, a treat to the finest thrashing of their lives. "The Brute Breaker" also carries a delightful love story in keeping with the atmosphere of the production.

The lights of Paris had lured her too far. In her reckless quest of pleasure, she found it was but a step from the gay haunts of the Boulevards to the murk of the world of the Apaches.

This man had shown her "life." Now he was proving how men like him treat women like her.

Apache love, Apache hate, and then the Apache dagger!

"Nothing unusual in the case," said the law. "Just a woman's revenge upon the man who wronged her." And the law was a thousand miles from the truth!

Don't miss Dorothy Dalton in this vivid, intimate story of the "other half" of Paris.

CENTRAL LABOR UNION MEMBERS HEAR ADDRESS

J. F. Burke Discusses "The History, Value and Limitations of Union Organization"

J F Burke addressed the Central Labor Union Wednesday night His topic, "History, Value and Limitations of Union Organization." He spoke of the part that early labor organizations played in the establishment of the free public school system doing away with imprisonment for debt and of their early propaganda for temperance and prohibition. He spoke also of the work that they had done on behalf of laws for the protection of children and of women.

Mr Burke compared the union men that without working in harmony with the public and without educating and publicity during the periods when there was no friction between them and the employers they could not hope to have the public understand their viewpoint. He referred to the fact that newspapers many times printed concerning different affairs which does not in clearly or right and of the difference on the part of union men to the question of whether the news was right or wrong except when they were personally interested by reason of a controversy. He stated that they should be interested in their fellowmen further than this.

At the conclusion Mr Burke emphasized that they should remember that whatever difficulties they labored under or to be feared they were victims of a misunderstanding with their employers they should bear in mind that their employer was a victim too and they should put themselves in their employers place and realize that his loss was as great as theirs in the public criticism of his life and he at the same time decided to be of the only brother and sufferer with them.

...UGH RHEUMATISM

...ist Druggist's No-Cure-No-Pay Offer Attracts Many Sufferers

If there are any rheumatic sufferers who have not availed themselves of this generous offer they should do so at once.

C. W. Phillips asserts state that if Rheuma the guaranteed prescription for rheumatism in any form, does not give any purchaser quick and joyful relief they will gladly return the cost without any quibbling or red tape.

Rheumatism is a dangerous disease and anyone who has the slightest taint of it should drive it out of the system as quickly as possible. This is what Rheuma did for many it should do as much for you.

"I have been laid up for one year with chronic arthritis," says one sufferer. "I had doctors galore, also spent four months in a sanitarium but had practically no relief. Then I started taking Rheuma. Now I can go without crutches or other aid, which I could not do for the last nine months. I highly recommend it and would gladly answer any questions asked upon receipt of stamp for postage." Thomas H. Eddy, Schuylerville, N. Y.

Rheuma is absolutely harmless and thoroughly reliable because it is one discovery that has forced rheumatism to yield and disappear. It's not expensive and it is recommended by good druggists everywhere.

MEAT INJURIOUS TO THE KIDNEYS

Take a tablespoonful of Salts if Back hurts or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

We are a nation of meat eaters and our blood is filled with uric acid, says a well-known authority, who warns us to be constantly on guard against kidney trouble.

The kidneys do their utmost to free the blood of this irritating acid, but become weak from the overwork; they get sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and then the waste is retained in the blood to poison the entire system.

When your kidneys ache and feel like lumps of lead, and you have stinging pains in the back or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment, or the bladder is irritable, obliging you to seek relief during the night; when you have severe headaches, nervous and dizzy spells, sleeplessness, acid stomach or rheumatism in bad weather, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast each morning and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys, to neutralize the acids in urine so it is no longer a source of irritation, thus ending kidney and bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everybody likes to take.

Another Indian lived with him a year to learn the language and a year more to explain Christianity to him. He never had worn clothes until he was confirmed.

OBSERVE LAST RITES FOR JOHN BARLEYCORN

Barleycorn was constitutionally dead and that there was not a legalized saloon under the American flag. He said that much he was going to establish then and there and he was going to enjoy it to its full. Then he added, "Tomorrow morning I am willing to consider other problems that face us and do my part."

J. F. Burke read the eighteenth amendment, which was to go into operation on the 16th and told the story of the great convention at Columbus which inaugurated the immediate plan of the adoption by Congress of the resolution for the amendment and then spoke of the committee of one thousand delegates swollen to several times that number, led by the Women's Christian Temperance Union, marching down Pennsylvania avenue and presenting the petition and the amendment to the representatives of Congress and the Senate. He then told of its passage thru the House and the time limit of seven years put upon it because the liquor forces believed that the temperance people could not get 36 states to ratify it in so short a period of time. He explained the meaning of the amendment and emphasized the fact that the state and nation had concurrant jurisdiction in its enforcement.

Recalls Grafton Attitude.

Mr. Burke then spoke reminiscently of the campaign in the various states and the difficulties that had to be undergone in the achievement of success. He said that he could not help being impressed also with the fact of the misery and wretchedness that had come to pass and which had been suffered for years, which might have been cut short much earlier had it not been for the lack of faith and energy of the church forces.

He closed by referring to local matmatters and particularly to his exago when, with the saloon keepers under arrest and trials to be held, the faithfulness of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, led even at that time also locally by Mrs. Hill, contrasted quite remarkably with the fearfulness of the men.

Pioneers in Prohibition.

Judge Webber who has been for years one of the real horses in the country for the cause and who, when he was a member of Congress introduced a bill for national prohibition, was not present. Attention was called to this by a number of speakers and regret expressed. The judge had been invited as a matter of fact to Madison and had accepted the invitation to speak before he recollected that this was the night before the nation was to go dry.

Mrs. A. R. Webber spoke and said she would feel at such a meeting that she were unfaithful to her father's memory if she did not remember, at such a time, his great faithfulness in the cause in his home and she said he knew that during these hours her mother who was with her was thinking of the heroic work of her father who was one of the pioneers for prohibition in their home county. She also expressed regret that Judge Webber was unable to attend this meeting.

Efforts Gratifying.

A. C. Myers was called upon and spoke of the satisfaction that he felt over the part that he had been able to play in the accomplishing of the work. He spoke particularly of the funeral of John Barleycorn and said that even he had certain qualities that people would consider good. One of them was that he was a stayer. He had been a long time with us and in this he compared him with Francis Joseph and the kaiser. But then he spoke of his joy in helping to bury him.

Mrs. S. H. Strickler, who was president of the Women's Christian Temperance Union and told of the development of the work, of their struggle locally and of finally Mrs. Hill taking hold of the work as president and of the remarkable development and the growth of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union since that time.

Camp Fire Stories.

Mrs. Hill was called upon during the camp fire hour and she told very graphically of the origin of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, of the crusade movement, particularly at Washington Court House and how in a week of prayer and consecration the faithful women were instrumental in closig all the saloons of that place. She then spoke of the work that was needed to be done yet along the lines, particularly of social purity and declared that there had been eight hundred girls stolen from their homes in the city of Cleveland during the past year that had never been heard of. All of them were supposed to have been taken into the white slave traffic. She said if the women did no other work than to correct this rent great evil it would be sufficient to justify their existence.

During the closing moments, Mrs. S. H. Strickler sang "Good-bye John Barleycorn," a prayer was offered by Doctor Winters, the company sang the Doxology and the bell was rung to peal out the glad news that the midnight had passed and the morning hour had come of the glad prohibition time.

After the summer or August sales the next best time to buy furs is in January clearance sales. Furs are expensive at all times but in bargains are to be had at all times either of these sales. The selection is much better in August but the prices are more attractive in January. One is a very graceful cut wrap of moleskins. It is trimmed in mink with a deep shawl collar. It is quite practical to buy such a wrap for there are still many arctic days in store for those people who do not go south
